LONDON, UK - September 23, 2026 -
Near Me Plumbers Limited has expanded its emergency plumbing and heating coverage across South East London, reinforcing its round-the-clock service commitment for residents and landlords in the Greenwich and Lewisham areas.

The London-based company confirmed that its 24/7 emergency call-out service now operates with a target one-hour response time for urgent plumbing and heating incidents. The expansion addresses growing demand for rapid support during boiler breakdowns, drainage failures, and gas-related concerns throughout the region.

As part of the broader service offering, Near Me Plumbers Greenwich - Plumber Lewisham teams provide landlord certificates, gas work, bathroom installations, drainage services, boiler and cylinder installations, central heating maintenance, and general plumbing repairs. Landlord certificates confirm that a property's gas and electrical systems have been inspected and meet safety requirements, a legal obligation for rental properties across the United Kingdom.

The company noted that colder months typically bring a rise in heating failures and burst pipes, placing additional pressure on households and property managers. The expanded coverage is intended to shorten wait times for those experiencing sudden loss of heating or water supply during periods of peak demand.

Arthur Sokoli, Director at Near Me Plumbers Limited, said the expansion reflects the changing needs of local homeowners and landlords. "Residents across South East London depend on reliable heating and plumbing, particularly during winter when a single fault can affect an entire household," Sokoli said. "Extending coverage and maintaining a rapid response time allows the team to reach properties quickly and resolve problems before they escalate."

The company's service range includes electrical installations, repairs, and maintenance, alongside drainage work such as drain unblocking, CCTV surveys, and pipe repairs. For heating systems, engineers carry out boiler and cylinder replacements, central heating installations, and ongoing maintenance for existing systems.

Sokoli added that safety compliance remains a central focus for the business. "Landlord certificates and regular gas inspections are not optional extras but legal safeguards," he said. "Helping property owners stay compliant protects tenants and gives everyone peace of mind that systems have been checked by qualified engineers."

Near Me Plumbers Limited stated that the expanded service model is designed to combine emergency responsiveness with planned work such as bathroom renovations and boiler upgrades. New boiler installations completed by the company carry energy efficiency ratings and warranty coverage, with finance options available for eligible customers.

The company confirmed that qualified engineers handle each stage of a project, from initial assessment through to installation and follow-up maintenance, across both domestic and rental properties in the Greenwich and Lewisham districts.

Near Me Plumbers Limited is a plumbing and heating service provider based in London. The company delivers landlord certificates, electrical services, gas work, bathroom installations, drainage services, 24/7 emergency call-outs, boiler and cylinder installations, central heating services, and general plumbing services for domestic and commercial clients across South East London.
