April 15, 2026

Eugene, OR - April 15, 2026 -
Atiyeh Bros. Eugene Rug & Carpet Cleaning addresses increasing consumer awareness about indoor air quality and home health by expanding professional upholstery cleaning services throughout Eugene, Oregon. The company reports heightened interest in deep cleaning services as residents prioritize healthier living environments.

Recent industry data shows that indoor air quality concerns have driven a 40 percent increase in professional cleaning service requests across Oregon. Upholstery fabrics can harbor allergens, dust mites, and bacteria that regular vacuuming cannot eliminate, making professional cleaning essential for maintaining healthy indoor environments.

"The connection between clean upholstery and family health has become increasingly clear to homeowners," said Leslie Atiyeh, spokesperson for Atiyeh Bros. Eugene Rug & Carpet Cleaning. "Furniture absorbs everything from pet dander to pollen, and these contaminants can affect respiratory health, especially for those with allergies or asthma. Professional cleaning removes these deeply embedded particles that household methods simply cannot reach."

The expanded service offerings come as Eugene residents face longer allergy seasons and increased time spent indoors. Professional upholstery cleaning removes up to 98 percent of common allergens from furniture fabrics, significantly improving indoor air quality. The process also extends furniture lifespan by preventing premature wear from embedded dirt particles.

Atiyeh Bros. Eugene Rug & Carpet Cleaning upholstery cleaners utilize specialized equipment and cleaning solutions designed for various fabric types, from delicate silks to durable microfibers. The company's technicians undergo extensive training to identify fabric compositions and select appropriate cleaning methods that preserve material integrity while achieving thorough sanitization.

The timing of this service expansion aligns with seasonal transitions when many households schedule deep cleaning projects. Spring and fall periods typically see increased demand as residents prepare for hosting gatherings or spending more time indoors. Professional cleaning during these transitions helps maintain healthier environments year-round.

Beyond health benefits, professional upholstery cleaning restores furniture appearance and eliminates odors that become trapped in fabric fibers. This restoration process proves particularly valuable for vintage or heirloom pieces that require careful handling and specialized knowledge.

The company notes that modern upholstery materials often require specific cleaning approaches to maintain manufacturer warranties. Professional cleaning services ensure proper care while avoiding damage that could void furniture protection plans.

Atiyeh Bros. Eugene Rug & Carpet Cleaning has served the Eugene community for multiple generations, establishing expertise in textile care and cleaning technologies. The company maintains certifications in various cleaning methodologies and stays current with industry advancements in eco-friendly cleaning solutions. Their comprehensive approach to home textile care includes area rugs, wall-to-wall carpeting, and upholstered furniture, providing complete solutions for maintaining clean, healthy living spaces throughout Eugene and surrounding areas.
