

Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory Expands Manufacturing Capacity and Delivery Network Across Southwest Florida

April 20, 2026

SARASOTA, FL - April 20, 2026 -
Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory, the Sarasota-based custom mattress manufacturer, announced today the completion of facility expansions that have increased production capacity by 40 percent and extended delivery services to additional Southwest Florida communities, including enhanced Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory in Naples and surrounding areas.

The expansion at the company's 4051 Clark Road manufacturing facility adds 8,000 square feet of production space and introduces new equipment for custom mattress fabrication. The development comes as demand for locally manufactured sleep products has increased 35 percent year-over-year in the Southwest Florida market, according to regional retail data.

"The facility expansion enables us to reduce production times from 10 days to 5 days while maintaining our handcrafted manufacturing standards," said the Director of Operations at Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory.

"The investment in additional production capacity and delivery infrastructure reflects growing regional demand for custom-sized mattresses, particularly in the marine and RV sectors where standard dimensions often don't meet specific space requirements."

The expanded delivery network now covers mattress store in Bradenton, Lakewood Ranch, Naples, North Port, and Venice, with the addition of three delivery vehicles and six new delivery personnel. The company reports that delivery volume to Naples specifically has increased by 60 percent over the past year, prompting the establishment of a dedicated Naples delivery route operating three days per week.

The manufacturer's product line includes five primary models designed for different support preferences. The Cloud 11th model features the American Comfort2000 Pocketed Coil System with 2.5-inch mini comfort micro coils. The Diamond model incorporates Energex and pulse latex foam for medium-firm support. The Infinity model utilizes a three-zoned pocketed coil system with hypoallergenic latex foam. The Paradise model offers the American Comfort800 Pocketed Coil System, while the SRQ model provides firm support configurations.

Recent additions to the company's manufacturing capabilities include specialized equipment for marine and RV mattress production, addressing the technical requirements of mobile living spaces. These custom applications require precise cutting equipment to accommodate irregular shapes and specific foam densities suitable for marine environments.

The expansion coincides with new Florida Department of Health regulations requiring enhanced ventilation systems in mattress manufacturing facilities, which the company has incorporated into its facility upgrades. The new systems exceed state requirements by 20 percent, according to compliance documentation filed with regulatory authorities.

Industry data from the International Sleep Products Association indicates that regional mattress manufacturers have captured an increasing share of the Florida market, growing from 12 percent in 2020 to 18 percent in 2024. This shift reflects consumer preference for locally manufactured products and shorter delivery times.

The company's lifetime comfort adjustment program, introduced in 2019, allows post-purchase modifications to mattress firmness levels. This service addresses the industry-wide challenge of comfort preferences changing over time, with approximately 30 percent of customers utilizing the adjustment service within the first two years of ownership, according to company service records.

Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory was recognized as the 2019 Retail Business of the Year by the Sarasota

Chamber of Commerce. The company employs 42 people at its Sarasota facility and has operated in Southwest Florida since 2008. All mattresses are manufactured at the Clark Road facility using materials sourced from domestic suppliers.
