The comprehensive software platform offered by daylight AG addresses critical challenges faced by educational institutions in managing complex administrative tasks. By consolidating multiple functions into one cohesive system, schools can significantly reduce the time spent on routine administrative work while improving data accuracy and accessibility. The platform encompasses people and address management, registration processing, resource allocation, financial accounting, and marketing capabilities, all designed specifically for the educational sector.

The company has an ongoing commitment to support Swiss educational institutions. Educational organizations face increasing pressure to deliver quality education while managing complex administrative requirements efficiently. daylight AG's integrated software solutions enable schools to streamline their operations, allowing educators and administrators to focus their energy and resources on what matters most, student success and learning outcomes

The modular nature of daylight AG's software allows institutions to customize their implementation based on specific requirements. Whether managing course registrations, coordinating examinations, organizing events, or handling financial transactions, the platform provides scalable solutions that grow with the institution. The software can be deployed either as an in-house installation or through cloud services, ensuring seamless integration with existing IT infrastructure.
