

Alejo Gutters LLC Expands Comprehensive Exterior Protection Services for Spring Storm Season

April 22, 2026

RALEIGH, NC - April 22, 2026 -
Alejo Gutters LLC, a Raleigh-based exterior home improvement company with over 20 years of industry experience, announces expanded service capabilities to address increasing demand for comprehensive water damage prevention solutions ahead of the spring storm season. The company now offers integrated exterior protection systems combining seamless gutter installation, roofing repairs, and siding restoration to provide complete home protection.

As spring weather patterns bring increased rainfall and severe weather to the region, property owners face heightened risks of water damage from failing gutter systems, compromised roofing, and deteriorating exterior surfaces. Alejo Gutters LLC exterior home improvement services address these vulnerabilities through a systematic approach that identifies and resolves multiple points of potential water intrusion.

The company specializes in installing 6-inch seamless gutters, which provide greater capacity than standard 5-inch systems commonly found on residential properties. These larger gutters, combined with proven guard systems including Shur Flo, Master Shield, and LeafBlaster Pro, help manage heavy rainfall volumes typical during spring storms. The seamless design reduces joint failures that often lead to foundation damage and landscape erosion.

"Spring storms test every aspect of a home's exterior defense system," said a spokesperson. "We see too many homeowners dealing with preventable water damage because they addressed only one component instead of examining the entire system. Our approach evaluates gutters, roofing, siding, and even chimney connections to ensure complete protection."

Beyond gutter installation, the company provides comprehensive roofing services, including inspections, repairs, replacement, and maintenance programs. Each roofing project includes a 5-year workmanship warranty. The team focuses on identifying root causes of leaks rather than applying temporary patches, utilizing detailed photo documentation throughout the diagnostic and repair process.

Alejo Gutters serves the Raleigh, North Carolina area with additional exterior repair services encompassing fascia and trim restoration, wood framing repairs, and chimney chase replacement. The company's technicians address water damage that often goes unnoticed until significant structural issues develop, particularly in areas where roofing, siding, and gutter systems intersect.

The expansion of integrated services responds to increasing requests from homeowners seeking single-source solutions for exterior maintenance and repair needs. Property owners benefit from coordinated repairs that ensure proper water flow from roof to ground, eliminating gaps in coverage that occur when multiple contractors work independently on different systems.

The company also assists homeowners with insurance claim documentation and support, providing detailed assessments and photographic evidence of storm damage and necessary repairs. This service has become increasingly valuable as severe weather events affect more properties across the region.

Alejo Gutters LLC operates as a locally owned business serving residential and commercial properties throughout the greater Raleigh metropolitan area. The company maintains a team of experienced technicians trained in modern installation techniques and safety protocols. With two decades of experience in exterior home improvement, the organization has developed expertise in addressing the specific weather challenges and architectural styles common to North Carolina properties.
