Appliance Depot Expands Big Green Egg Ceramic Grill Inventory for Twin Cities Customers

April 23, 2026

INVER GROVE HEIGHTS, MN - April 23, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Appliance Depot has increased its in-stock selection of Big Green Egg ceramic grills to include the full range of sizes. The retailer now maintains ready availability of all major models at its Inver Grove Heights location to meet consistent local demand for outdoor cooking equipment in the Twin Cities area.

The Big Green Egg features a thick ceramic construction that retains heat effectively and supports multiple cooking methods using natural charcoal. Customers can choose from the Mini, MiniMax, Small, Medium, Large, XLarge, and XXLarge models, each designed for different household sizes and outdoor spaces. This expanded inventory provides options for both compact setups and larger family or entertaining needs. The ceramic oven design draws from ancient-inspired techniques while incorporating modern manufacturing standards for durability and performance across varying weather conditions common in Minnesota.

The decision to broaden the Big Green Egg lineup reflects observed customer interest in outdoor cooking solutions within the Twin Cities area. Many residents seek durable equipment that performs reliably through Minnesota's seasonal changes, from spring grilling sessions to fall smoking projects and even limited winter use when properly protected. By increasing stock levels across all sizes, Appliance Depot addresses this ongoing demand without requiring special orders for popular models. The availability of complete bundles and accessories, including premium kiln-dried wood chunks in mesquite and hickory varieties, further supports customers in setting up their outdoor cooking stations efficiently and with minimal preparation time.

Ronald Zeien, owner of Appliance Depot, stated, "We have seen steady requests for the complete selection of Big Green Egg models. Expanding our inventory allows us to serve customers more efficiently when they visit looking for these grills."

A company representative noted that the full line has become a frequent point of inquiry, particularly as more households incorporate outdoor cooking into their routines year-round. This trend aligns with broader shifts in home entertainment preferences, where families and individuals look for equipment that delivers consistent results across various recipes and cooking styles while maintaining ease of use.

Appliance Depot carries the Big Green Egg alongside its traditional offerings of new, used, and scratch-and-dent home appliances. This addition complements the retailer's long-established inventory of appliance parts and full kitchen units. Staff members assist with model selection by discussing space requirements, typical usage patterns, and compatibility with existing setups. The hands-on guidance draws from decades of experience in helping customers match products to their specific home environments, whether for everyday family meals or larger gatherings and events.

The ceramic grills join other specialized products that extend beyond standard indoor appliances. Customers in St. Paul, Minneapolis, and surrounding communities now find a single location that supports both kitchen maintenance and outdoor living needs. The increased stock helps reduce wait times and supports timely purchases ahead of peak grilling periods in the region. Each Big Green Egg model reaches optimal cooking temperature quickly when using the recommended 100 percent natural lump charcoal sourced from quality cuts of hardwood in the United States, allowing users to begin cooking in just minutes after lighting.

No special pricing or promotional offers are associated with the expanded inventory. The focus remains on maintaining product availability to meet existing customer needs in the local market.

Appliance Depot has operated as a family-owned business since 1955. The Zeien family continues to manage the company, building on its original focus on appliance parts and service. Over the decades, the retailer has adapted its inventory to match evolving community preferences while maintaining core expertise in appliance solutions. The business began by supplying parts and repair support before expanding into full appliance sales and now includes lifestyle-oriented items such as the Big Green Egg line to address complete home needs.

The Inver Grove Heights showroom serves as a regional resource where customers can view products in person and receive guidance based on decades of accumulated knowledge. This hands-on approach has defined the business through multiple generations and contributes to its role as a trusted local option for appliance-related needs. The physical space allows for direct comparison of different grill sizes and discussion of practical considerations like placement, ventilation, and basic maintenance requirements to ensure long-term satisfaction.

By maintaining a comprehensive selection that includes the full Big Green Egg ceramic grill line, Appliance Depot continues to respond to the practical requirements of area residents. The expanded availability supports informed purchasing decisions and aligns with the company's longstanding practice of offering functional solutions across indoor and outdoor categories. Customers benefit from the ability to examine the grills, review specifications, and understand how the ceramic design contributes to efficient fuel use and temperature stability over extended cooking sessions.

The inclusion of the Big Green Egg lineup represents one element of Appliance Depot's ongoing adaptation to customer requirements in both kitchen and outdoor settings. As interest in home-based cooking experiences grows throughout the Twin Cities, the retailer remains positioned to provide reliable access to quality equipment that meets those needs without unnecessary delays or complications.
