May 07, 2026

PEKIN, IL - May 07, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Kelley Construction Contractors, Inc., a family-owned general contractor based in Pekin, Illinois, is marking more than 30 years of residential remodeling work across Central Illinois. Since its founding in 1994, the company has served homeowners throughout the region with bathroom remodels, kitchen remodels, custom decks, home additions, siding, flooring, and roofing services.

Founded by Mike Kelley, who continues to lead the business as CEO and President, the company operates out of three offices in Pekin, Normal, and Peoria, serving a 50-mile radius around Peoria. Communities served include Bloomington, East Peoria, Morton, Washington, and dozens of other Central Illinois cities.

Kelley Construction is a general contractor with a focused range of residential remodeling services, including bathroom remodels, kitchen remodels, custom decks, home additions, siding, and flooring. The company also offers roofing and sunroom installations for homeowners seeking a single contractor across multiple project types.

Central Illinois homeowners undertaking remodeling projects face a range of considerations, from material selection and permitting requirements to managing project timelines and coordinating tradespeople. General contractors play a practical role in this process, handling the organizational and logistical aspects of a project so homeowners can focus on the outcome rather than the process. For projects ranging from single-room renovations to larger home additions, having a single point of contact responsible for the full scope of work is a common preference among homeowners in the region.

A notable aspect of how the company operates is direct leadership involvement throughout each project. Homeowners work with owners and leadership from initial consultation through project completion, a structure the company says supports accountability and consistent communication at every stage. Projects are managed from permitting through final delivery, removing the need for homeowners to coordinate with multiple contractors independently.

The company's team includes experienced carpenters and estimators who have worked across Central Illinois for many years, contributing to a consistent standard of workmanship across projects of varying size and scope.

Kelley Construction backs every project with a one-year workmanship warranty, with roofing projects carrying a five-year workmanship warranty. Both are offered in addition to applicable manufacturer warranties.

These warranties reflect the company's stated commitment to standing behind completed work. For a contractor with more than 30 years in the Central Illinois market, warranty coverage has remained a consistent part of how the company structures its agreements with homeowners.

Kelley Construction provides free project estimates and design services, with turnaround within one week on projects of any size. The company manages all aspects of project delivery, including permits and final completion, giving homeowners a clear picture of what to expect before work begins.

This process is guided by the company's stated core values: communication, quality, accountability, integrity, urgency, and expertise, principles that have shaped operations since the company's founding in 1994.

Kelley Construction holds an Illinois Unlimited Roofing Contractor License (#104.015841), a GAF Master Elite Contractor certification, and BBB Accreditation. The company is also an authorized installer of Conklin commercial roofing products. Homeowners in Central Illinois interested in bathroom remodels or other residential remodeling projects can contact Kelley Construction directly to request a free estimate.
