DSB Products, an e-commerce retailer in Keller, TX, has launched a line of vinyl wall art decals that are available on the Amazon marketplace. Their latest decal offering is a nursery wall decal that reads "Sweet Dreams Little Angel" and shows a baby monkey, lion, duck, elephant, giraffe, and bunny.

The first decal to be introduced in February was a 'Welcome to Our Home' decal followed by a 'Cat in the Hat' decal in March. 'May the Force be with You' for fans of Star Wars, was the third wall decal to be released. The latest addition is intended to decorate a nursery with an array of cute animal figures in a solid black color that will catch the attention of infants. The wall art decal offerings are expanding and further decals are due to be released soon.

The nursery wall decal is 22" wide and 11" tall. The full line of wall art decals offered by DSB Products is available in the Amazon DSB Products Store.

This wall decal is made in the USA. D.S. Barnett, the founder of the company added, "Many wall decals are poor quality replicas made from PVC and imported from other countries. The wall decals offered by DSB

Products are top quality vinyl, 3 mils thick, and transfer to your wall or any smooth surface and look as though they were painted on. They are 100% made in USA, one of the many reasons why our products are so popular."

Each piece, letter, or character of the wall decal is a separate piece cut from vinyl. All of the pieces are mounted on a backing, positioned exactly as they should be for transfer to a wall in perfect position without any clear sheet between letters. Some wall decals are made from a solid sheet and are applied like wall paper, but do not look painted on due to the clear areas between the printing and drawings. The company would like to point out that solid sheet type decals are lower cost, lower quality, and do not compare to individually cut quality vinyl wall decals as offered by DSB Products. In addition, the decal can be removed without damaging the surface of the wall.

This Sweet Dreams Little Angel nursery wall decal is non-toxic, waterproof, durable and easy to remove. The decal is rolled and shipped in a tube and never folded. Detailed application instructions are included with the decals, and also in a PDF document emailed to the customer after ordering. The instructions also reference videos available on YouTube where a customer can watch a wall decal being applied. D.S. Barnett says, "After getting a wall decal and following the application instructions, your wall decal will look like it has been painted on the wall by a professional."

Wall art decals are a new interest of DSB Products. The company is better known on Amazon for their line of silicone baking kitchen products under the Happy Cook brand. This product line includes silicone spatulas, muffin pans, cake pans, candy molds and more.
