Soap.Club Announces Release Of New Handmade And Theme Scented Gifts

April 19, 2016

April 19, 2016 -
Vaughan, Ontario, Canada based Soap.Club has announced a total of nine new themed scented gift sets now available for purchase. The company states that these soaps are handmade and they have sets now available in three and five packs.

Connie Farrar, one of the founders of the company says, "We went out of our way to put together an exciting assortment of luxurious themes to appeal to a wide range of soap lovers." She explains that the themes for the new natural gift sets range from fresh tropical escape and moisturizing goats milk to herbal Zen moments, and several others.

"They're great sets," Farrar says. "Not only do they contain wonderfully natural ingredients, but they are also beautiful to look at, and make the perfect gift for anyone, even those people in your life that already have everything."

Soap.Club provides consumers with pure and natural organic artisan soaps. Farrar says that all of their soaps include vitamin rich products that are designed to stimulate the senses while offering a world of benefits.

Soaps are created only in small batches and are individually cut, inspected, and then packaged on the day of shipment to ensure freshness.

The company states that they offer a number of scents and soaps made from various ingredients, such as their coconut oil soap, which Farrar states is very popular. The company allows customers to purchase natural soap through an online store or through a monthly membership plan. Soap.Club is a small family owned and operated business that provides natural products for a number of needs.

Farrar states that their new packages are just what the customers ordered. She states that by offering packaging in three and five bar packs, the company can help their customers to get the natural soaps that they want, while also helping them to save a bit on the overall cost. She calls it a "win-win all the way around."

Those interested, can visit the company on their official website to see a complete list of the soaps and gift set packages that are currently available. Also avaiable on the site are pet friendly products and various accessories.
