

Bay Clinic of Chiropractic Expands Functional Neurology Services to Address Growing Demand for Brain-Based Therapies

May 21, 2026

Panama City, FL - May 21, 2026 -
Bay Clinic of Chiropractic in Panama City, Florida, has expanded its comprehensive functional neurology services to meet increasing patient demand for non-invasive, drug-free treatments for neurological and chronic pain conditions. The clinic's enhanced program combines advanced brain-based therapies with advanced chiropractic care to address conditions ranging from post-traumatic brain injuries to neurodegenerative disorders.

The expansion comes as more patients seek alternatives to conventional treatments for complex neurological conditions. The clinic's approach integrates functional medicine, chiropractic neurology, and clinical nutrition to address the underlying causes of neurological dysfunction rather than merely managing symptoms.

"The field of functional neurology has evolved significantly over the past decade, and we're seeing remarkable results with patients who previously had limited treatment options," said Dr. Tony Salamay

(Antoine Salameh DC), lead practitioner at Bay Clinic of Chiropractic. "By addressing the brain-body connection through targeted therapies, we're helping patients with conditions like dystonia, vertigo, and attention disorders achieve meaningful improvements in their quality of life."

Bay Clinic of Chiropractic functional neurology services encompass a wide range of therapeutic modalities, including spinal decompression, craniosacral therapy, and PEMF (Pulsed Electromagnetic Field) therapy. These treatments work synergistically to retrain neural pathways and restore optimal nervous system function. The clinic also employs advanced diagnostic techniques such as autonomic response testing and nutrition response testing to develop personalized treatment protocols for each patient.

The clinic's multidisciplinary approach has proven particularly effective for patients with chronic migraines, learning disorders, and post-concussion syndrome. Unlike traditional medical interventions that often rely heavily on pharmaceutical management, the clinic's brain-based therapies focus on neuroplasticity?the brain's ability to reorganize and form new neural connections throughout life.

Dr. Tony Salamay (Antoine Salameh DC), who holds a master's degree in Human Nutrition and has over two decades of experience in functional medicine, emphasizes the importance of addressing metabolic factors alongside neurological concerns. "Many neurological conditions have metabolic components that are often overlooked in conventional treatment approaches," Dr. Salamay explained. "By incorporating clinical nutrition and functional medicine principles, we're able to support the body's natural healing processes while addressing neurological dysfunction."

The expanded services include specialized programs for autism spectrum disorders, dyslexia, and other developmental conditions. The clinic utilizes applied kinesiology and sacro occipital technique alongside modern therapeutic technologies to create comprehensive treatment plans tailored to individual patient needs.

Patients seeking treatment at Bay Clinic of Chiropractic undergo thorough evaluations to identify the root causes of their conditions. This comprehensive assessment approach allows the clinical team to develop targeted interventions that address both immediate symptoms and long-term health goals.

Bay Clinic of Chiropractic, established in 2010, has built a reputation as a leading provider of integrative healthcare services in the Florida Panhandle region. The clinic's commitment to combining evidence-based practices with innovative therapeutic approaches has made it a destination for patients seeking alternatives to conventional medical treatments for complex neurological and chronic pain conditions.
