

Timberline Roofing & Contracting Expands Home Improvement Offerings with Professional Basement Finishing Services

May 19, 2026

WHITE BEAR LAKE, MN - May 19, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Timberline Roofing & Contracting has expanded its contracting capabilities to include professional basement finishing and remodeling services for homeowners in the Twin Cities area. The locally owned company, known for its expertise in exterior restoration, now applies the same standards of quality craftsmanship and project management to interior home improvements, allowing clients to work with a single trusted team for both exterior protection and interior enhancements.

Founded in 1998, Timberline Roofing & Contracting operates as a full-service contracting firm specializing in storm damage restoration alongside a growing range of home enhancement solutions. The addition of basement finishing allows homeowners to transform underutilized basement spaces into functional living areas such as additional bedrooms, home offices, entertainment rooms, workout areas, or family gathering spots. This expansion increases both property value and daily living comfort while eliminating the need to coordinate multiple separate contractors.

Basement finishing projects typically involve comprehensive planning and execution, including framing, plumbing, electrical work, HVAC installation, drywall, painting, trim work, and flooring installation. The company coordinates all trades under one roof, ensuring seamless communication and consistent quality throughout the project. This turnkey approach minimizes homeowner stress, helps projects stay on schedule, and keeps them within budget through efficient on-site project management.

Recent customer feedback highlights the benefits of working with a single trusted team. Homeowners appreciate the attention to detail, respect for their property during construction, thorough cleanup, and clear updates provided at every stage. These projects often incorporate energy-efficient features, effective moisture control solutions, and custom designs tailored to each family's specific needs and lifestyle preferences.

Gordy Kaufmann, owner of Timberline Roofing & Contracting, stated, "Expanding into basement finishing allows us to offer homeowners a more complete home improvement experience. Our goal is to deliver the same level of professionalism and reliability that our roofing and storm restoration clients have come to expect."

The company's on-site project management ensures coordination among specialized crews while maintaining high safety and cleanliness standards. This includes protecting existing living spaces during construction and performing thorough final cleanup upon completion. Flexible financing options make these larger interior projects more accessible for families looking to maximize their home's potential without unnecessary delays.

Kaufmann added, "We focus on clear communication and delivering results that exceed expectations. Whether it's a full basement remodel or a targeted upgrade, our team works closely with homeowners to create spaces they truly enjoy."

This expansion builds directly on the company's GAF Master Elite certification and decades of hands-on experience in the construction industry. The same commitment to quality materials, proper installation techniques, and customer satisfaction that defines their exterior work now carries through to interior projects. With over 25 years serving Minnesota homeowners, Timberline Roofing & Contracting brings proven reliability to every phase of a basement finishing project.

As Minnesota homeowners seek practical ways to enhance their living space amid evolving family needs, professional basement finishing provides a cost-effective and value-adding solution. The company's integrated service model, combining long-established exterior protection services with new interior remodeling capabilities, helps homeowners both protect and improve their largest investment through one reliable local partner.

Timberline Roofing & Contracting continues to serve residential and multi-family properties across the Twin Cities and surrounding communities with the same dedication to craftsmanship, transparency, and community involvement that has defined the business since 1998.

Timberline Roofing & Contracting is a locally owned and operated company founded in 1998, specializing in storm damage restoration, premium roofing solutions, and professional basement finishing for residential properties in the Twin Cities area and beyond.
