

Kelley Girl Charters Highlights Peak Shark Fishing Season for Summer Visitors

June 05, 2026

Panama City, FL - June 05, 2026 -
Kelley Girl Charters, a Panama City Beach-based charter fishing company, is reminding summer visitors that the warmer months present optimal conditions for shark fishing in the Gulf of Mexico. The family-owned charter service specializes in guided shark fishing expeditions that target species including Blacktip, Bull, and Hammerhead sharks.

As temperatures rise and vacation season approaches, the company reports increased interest in deep-sea fishing adventures from both experienced anglers and newcomers to the sport. The charter service operates specialized shark fishing trips that depart at either 5 AM or 6 AM, accommodating groups of up to 20 guests.

The company's shark fishing expeditions range from half-day to full-day excursions, with options for both catch-and-release and harvest, depending on species regulations and customer preference. Each charter includes all necessary equipment, bait, and the expertise of seasoned captains who navigate to productive fishing grounds offshore.

"Summer brings ideal conditions for shark fishing with Kelley Girl in the Gulf waters off Panama City Beach," said Mark Kelley, owner of Kelley Girl Charters. "The warmer water temperatures increase shark activity, making this the prime time for anglers seeking the thrill of catching these powerful predators. Our experienced captains know exactly where to find them and how to ensure a safe, memorable experience for everyone aboard."

Beyond shark fishing, the charter service offers various deep-sea fishing experiences, including bottom fishing for snapper and grouper, and trolling for species such as mackerel, bonito, mahi-mahi, and sailfish. The company operates a fleet of vessels equipped with modern safety equipment, bathrooms, and air conditioning, exceeding U.S. Coast Guard regulations.

The timing of peak shark season coincides with the busiest tourist months in Panama City Beach, providing vacationing families and fishing enthusiasts an opportunity to experience Gulf fishing at its most active period. The charter service caters to all skill levels, from beginners receiving their first introduction to offshore fishing to experienced anglers seeking specific species.

"We see families creating lasting memories during these summer shark fishing trips," added Kelley. "There's something special about being out on the Gulf at sunrise, watching someone land their first shark. It's an experience that stays with people long after their vacation ends."

Kelley Girl Charters has established itself as a prominent charter fishing service in the Panama City Beach area, earning high ratings on platforms including FishingBooker and TripAdvisor. The company offers hourly trip options ranging from four to twelve hours, allowing customers to select experiences that match their schedules and fishing goals. In addition to fishing charters, the company provides unique services including cremation trips for families wishing to spread ashes at sea.
