

Chicago Website Design SEO Company Marks 13 Years Serving Chicago Metro Area Businesses

June 01, 2026

Chicago, Illinois - June 01, 2026 -
Chicago Website Design SEO Company (CWDSC) celebrates thirteen years of providing digital marketing and website development services to businesses throughout the Chicago metropolitan area. Since its founding in 2012, the company has designed and launched over 500 websites for local small businesses while managing more than $300,000 in monthly AdWords campaigns.

The milestone represents significant growth achieved entirely through organic search engine optimization strategies, without relying on paid lead generation for company expansion. The Chicago website design company has established itself as a trusted partner for businesses across diverse industries including roofing, chiropractic care, legal services, HVAC, plumbing, and various home service sectors.

"Reaching thirteen years in business while helping over 500 Chicago businesses establish their online presence has been incredibly rewarding," said Jack Lombardi II, Owner of Chicago Website Design SEO Company. "Our success stems from focusing on what matters most - delivering websites that generate qualified leads and helping local businesses compete effectively in digital markets. The fact that we've achieved this growth organically, without purchasing leads ourselves, demonstrates the effectiveness of the SEO strategies we implement for our clients."

The company's service portfolio encompasses comprehensive digital marketing solutions including local SEO, search engine optimization, professional web design, AdWords management, and reputation management. Each service addresses specific challenges faced by local businesses competing for visibility in increasingly competitive online markets.

CWDSC's approach to web design services Chicago emphasizes creating fast-loading, SEO-ready websites optimized for lead generation and conversion. The company works across multiple platforms including WordPress, Shopify, Webflow, PHP, Squarespace, Wix, and Next.js, allowing flexibility to meet diverse client requirements and technical specifications.

The company's client base spans from independent local businesses to multimillion-dollar eCommerce operations, reflecting its ability to scale services according to business size and objectives. Industries served include professional services such as law firms and medical practices, contractors including electricians and home remodeling companies, and healthcare providers including dental and chiropractic practices.

Throughout its thirteen-year history, CWDSC has maintained a focus on measurable results and transparent reporting. The company offers free SEO audits and consultations to help businesses identify opportunities for improving their online visibility and performance. Recent CWDSC client reviews highlight the company's commitment to responsive service and technical expertise in addressing complex digital marketing challenges.

Chicago Website Design SEO Company continues to adapt its services to meet evolving digital marketing trends and search engine algorithm updates. The company's longevity in the competitive digital marketing industry reflects its ability to deliver consistent results while maintaining long-term client relationships.
