Farmers Insurance - Ulysses Campos Announces Expanded Commercial Insurance Services for San Antonio Businesses

June 04, 2026

SAN ANTONIO, TX - June 04, 2026 -
Farmers Insurance - Ulysses Campos announces the expansion of its commercial insurance in San Antonio to address growing demand from businesses seeking comprehensive coverage options. The agency, operating as an affiliate of Farmers Insurance, has restructured its commercial offerings to provide enhanced protection for business assets, vehicles, and operations across multiple industries.

The expanded services come as San Antonio experiences continued business growth, with new enterprises requiring insurance coverage that addresses both traditional and emerging risks. The agency now offers specialized commercial policies that include general liability, property protection, commercial auto coverage, and workers' compensation options tailored to specific industry requirements.

"San Antonio's business landscape continues to evolve, and insurance needs have become more complex," said Ulysses Campos, agency owner. "Our expanded commercial insurance framework addresses these changing requirements by offering flexible coverage options that adapt to different business models and risk profiles."

The agency's Commercial Insurance expansion includes dedicated support for small and medium-sized enterprises, with policy structures designed to accommodate businesses at various growth stages. Coverage options range from basic liability protection to comprehensive packages that include business interruption insurance, equipment breakdown coverage, and cyber liability protection.

In addition to commercial offerings, the agency maintains its auto insurance services for individual and fleet vehicles. The auto coverage includes standard liability, collision, and comprehensive options, with policies available for personal vehicles, commercial fleets, and specialty vehicles used in business operations.

Recent data from the Texas Department of Insurance indicates that commercial insurance claims in the San Antonio metropolitan area increased by 12 percent over the past year, driven primarily by weather-related incidents and supply chain disruptions. This trend underscores the importance of adequate commercial coverage for businesses operating in the region.

"Businesses face various risks that can impact operations and financial stability," Campos stated. "Our role involves analyzing these risks and matching businesses with appropriate coverage levels based on their specific industry, size, and operational characteristics."

The agency serves clients across multiple sectors, including retail, manufacturing, professional services, and construction. Each sector presents distinct insurance requirements, from product liability for manufacturers to errors and omissions coverage for professional service providers. The expanded services framework allows the agency to address these varied needs through customized policy structures.

Beyond commercial and auto coverage, Farmers Insurance - Ulysses Campos provides additional insurance products, including homeowners insurance, life insurance, and specialty coverage. The agency also offers financial planning services, assisting clients with retirement strategies and asset protection planning.

The expansion of commercial services includes enhanced claims support, with dedicated resources for processing business-related claims and coordinating with adjusters to minimize operational disruptions. The agency has implemented streamlined documentation processes to expedite claim resolution and reduce administrative burden for business owners.

Farmers Insurance - Ulysses Campos operates from its San Antonio location, serving businesses and individuals throughout Bexar County and surrounding areas. The agency's affiliation with Farmers Insurance provides access to national resources while maintaining local market knowledge and relationships.
