

Above It All Roofing Surpasses 1,200 Completed Roofing Projects Across Mississauga with 25 Years of Certified Installation Experience

June 08, 2026

MISSISSAUGA, ON - June 08, 2026 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Above It All Roofing has surpassed 1,200 completed roofing projects across Mississauga, marking a volume milestone that coincides with the company's 25th year of certified residential and commercial roofing installation in the Greater Toronto Area. The dual milestone reflects two and a half decades of consistent project delivery in one of Ontario's most active construction markets.

Reaching 1,200 completed projects represents a meaningful operational benchmark in the roofing sector, where individual projects range from targeted replacement to full multi-square installation across residential and commercial structures. That volume, accumulated over 25 years of continuous operation, indicates a level of market presence that extends beyond periodic bursts of activity into a sustained pattern of installation work across a broad cross-section of the Mississauga property market.

The Mississauga roofing industry operates within a framework of building codes, manufacturer certification requirements, and insurance obligations that vary in stringency across contractors. Companies that have maintained certified installation status for 25 years have done so by meeting the ongoing requirements associated with that certification across each renewal cycle, rather than achieving it once and allowing the designation to lapse. For property owners selecting a roofing contractor, sustained certification over a long operating history provides a different quality signal than certification recently obtained.

“These numbers reflect 25 years of showing up and completing projects to the standard that keeps clients coming back and referring their neighbours,” said Kristian Crowe, Owner of Above It All Roofing. “Reaching 1,200 projects in Mississauga specifically means this company has become a consistent presence in the local market, not just a name that appears during busy seasons. That kind of track record takes time to build and reflects the work behind every one of those jobs.”

Above It All Roofing provides roofing services in Mississauga for residential and commercial properties, covering full roof replacements, flat roofing systems, and new construction installations. The company is a member of the Bryan Baeumler Approved Contractors program, an independent endorsement that requires contractors to meet defined standards of workmanship, customer service, and business practices. That affiliation adds a third-party accountability layer to the company's own quality representations and provides homeowners with an additional reference point when evaluating contractor options.

Metal roofing in Mississauga is a core service Above It All Roofing provides as part of its residential and commercial offering, serving homeowners seeking a long-term, low-maintenance alternative to traditional asphalt shingles. Metal roofing systems are particularly well-suited to the Mississauga climate, offering superior resistance to ice damming, wind uplift, and freeze-thaw cycling that accelerates wear on conventional roofing materials. Above It All Roofing has experience installing metal roofing across a broad cross-section of Mississauga properties.

The Mississauga residential and commercial roofing market has remained active through the past several years, supported by the age profile of the region's housing stock and by sustained homeowner investment in property maintenance and improvement. A significant portion of Mississauga's single-family and semi-detached homes were constructed between the 1960s and 1990s, placing their original or first-replacement roofing systems within or approaching the end of their service life. That demographic reality sustains replacement demand independent of new construction activity.
