

Better Builders Expands Home Addition Contractor Services to Meet Growing Seattle Housing Demand

June 05, 2026

SEATTLE, WA - June 05, 2026 -
Better Builders, a Seattle-based construction and renovation company with over 35 years of experience, announces expanded capacity for home additions and accessory dwelling units as the region continues to face housing challenges and changing homeowner needs.

The expansion comes as Seattle homeowners increasingly seek alternatives to relocating, choosing instead to maximize their existing properties through strategic additions and renovations. The company has enhanced its design-build capabilities to accommodate the rising demand for home additions, ADUs (Accessory Dwelling Units), and DADUs (Detached Accessory Dwelling Units) throughout the Seattle metropolitan area.

"Seattle homeowners are discovering that expanding their current homes often provides better value and less disruption than moving to a new property," said Pete Baughman, spokesperson of Better Builders. "We've structured our services to help families create the additional space they need while maintaining the character and integrity of their homes. Our team brings decades of experience in navigating Seattle's specific building requirements and neighborhood aesthetics."

As a remodeling contractor in Seattle, WA residents have relied on for more than three decades, Better Builders offers comprehensive renovation services including whole-house remodels, kitchen and bathroom renovations, basement finishing, and outdoor living space construction. The company's design-build approach integrates architectural planning with construction expertise, streamlining the renovation process for homeowners.

The demand for additional living space has particularly increased for multi-generational housing solutions and home-based work environments. ADUs and home additions provide flexible options for aging parents, adult children, or rental income opportunities while keeping families connected on the same property. These solutions have become increasingly relevant as remote work arrangements continue to reshape how people use their homes.

Better Builders maintains a comprehensive warranty program that extends beyond typical industry standards. The company's 5-Year Craftsmanship Warranty reflects its commitment to construction quality and long-term client relationships. This warranty coverage applies to all projects, from minor bathroom updates to complete custom home construction.

As a kitchen remodeling contractor, the company has observed that kitchen renovations often serve as the catalyst for larger home improvement projects. Modern kitchens require careful integration of technology, energy efficiency, and design aesthetics while maintaining functionality for daily use. The company's design team works closely with homeowners to create spaces that balance current trends with timeless appeal.

The expansion of services comes at a time when Seattle's housing market continues to challenge both buyers and current homeowners. Rather than competing in a tight real estate market, many residents are choosing to invest in their existing properties, adding value through strategic improvements and expansions.

Better Builders specializes in custom home building, whole-house remodels, kitchen and bathroom renovations, home additions, basement remodeling, ADU and DADU construction, outdoor living spaces, and exterior improvements, including sunrooms. The company serves the greater Seattle metropolitan area with a focus on design-build solutions that address both immediate needs and long-term home value.
