

New Condo Insurance Introduced In West Palm Beach

April 28, 2016

AC Insurance Services, a company in West Palm Beach, FL, has announced that they now offer condo insurance West Palm Beach services. The company offers free, no obligation quotes for these services. They also provide advice regarding the Uniform Mitigation Form, which may be needed for condos built before 2002.

Pete Steiner from AC Insurance Services says: "We offer a specific condo insurance policy, which is different from master condo policies. The master policies do not cover the interior of the condo, which our policies do. We also provide our clients with advice on what type of insurance and other policies are most suitable to them. This information is completely free and no obligation."

AC Insurance Services prides itself on offering comprehensive, discounted insurance policies for a variety of different things. These include auto, business, homeowners, and marine insurance. Their new focus on condo insurance is a logical progression on their offerings, not in the least because condos are highly popular across the state of Florida. Furthermore, due to the weather conditions in this state, highly specific types of policies also need to be offered.

Those who have worked with the insurance company in the past have been very happy with the services they have received. "Peter at A C Insurance Services found a great auto insurance policy for me in a short period of time," says Amanda W. on the company's Facebook page. "He educated me on my policy options and provided prompt, excellent customer service. I would highly recommend A C Insurance Services and will again turn to them in a few short months for their expertise when renewing my liability policy for my business."

Those interested in condo insurance or any other type of insurance, or who simply want to receive advice on which type of policy is most suitable to them, are encouraged to contact AC Insurance Services as soon as possible. They offer a convenient contact form on their website at <http://myacis.com/contact/>, where they can indicate what their inquiry is about. The company will then get back to them as soon as possible with further information.
