

HRT Mobile Welding Expands Mobile Welding Services Across Tri-Valley and East Bay Region

June 25, 2026

LIVERMORE, CA - June 25, 2026 -
HRT Mobile Welding, a licensed mobile welding company based in Livermore, California, has expanded its on-site welding and fabrication services to meet growing demand from commercial, industrial, and construction clients throughout the Tri-Valley and East Bay areas. The company now operates two fully equipped welding trucks and an in-shop facility to provide immediate repair services and planned fabrication projects without requiring equipment transportation to off-site locations.

Founded by Kyle Shannon in October 2024, HRT Mobile Welding addresses critical downtime challenges faced by businesses with large-scale or permanently installed equipment that cannot be easily moved for repairs. The expansion encompasses service areas including Livermore, Pleasanton, Dublin, San Ramon, Hayward, Oakland, Union City, Walnut Creek, and Alameda, bringing professional welding capabilities directly to client locations.

The company offers comprehensive welding solutions utilizing MIG, TIG, and stick welding processes to accommodate various metal types and project specifications. Services include emergency repairs for production equipment, on-site structural steel work, and custom metal fabrication tailored specifically for business-to-business clients. This mobile service model particularly benefits facilities requiring after-hours or emergency welding services, eliminating costly production delays associated with traditional shop-based repairs.

"The demand for immediate, on-site welding solutions has increased significantly across California's industrial and commercial sectors," said Kyle Shannon, owner of HRT Mobile Welding. "By bringing our expertise and equipment directly to client locations, we eliminate transportation logistics, reduce equipment downtime, and help businesses maintain continuous operations. Our mobile capabilities mean that whether a client needs emergency repairs on production equipment or planned structural steel work, we can address their needs without disrupting their workflow."

HRT Mobile Welding on-site welding Tri-Valley services have become increasingly valuable for construction companies working on tight deadlines, manufacturing facilities with heavy machinery, and industrial operations requiring specialized fabrication work. The company's mobile units carry complete welding setups, allowing technicians to perform complex repairs and fabrications that traditionally required equipment transport to dedicated welding shops.

The timing of the company's expansion aligns with broader industry trends showing increased demand for mobile trade services across California. As businesses seek to minimize operational disruptions and reduce maintenance costs, mobile welding services provide a practical solution for maintaining and repairing critical infrastructure and equipment.

HRT Mobile Welding maintains full licensing through the California State License Board (CSLB License 1132921), along with comprehensive bonding and insurance coverage. The company's combination of mobile services and in-shop capabilities allows flexibility in handling both emergency repairs and scheduled maintenance projects for commercial and industrial clients throughout the region.

Based in Livermore, California, HRT Mobile Welding specializes in bringing professional welding and fabrication services directly to commercial, industrial, and construction sites throughout the Tri-Valley and East Bay areas. The company operates two mobile welding units and a fully equipped shop facility to serve businesses requiring immediate repairs or custom metal fabrication without the logistics challenges of equipment transportation.
