

Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory Announces Manufacturing Process Updates and Expanded Delivery Network Across Southwest Florida

June 15, 2026

SARASOTA, FL - June 15, 2026 -

Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory has announced updates to its manufacturing processes and an expansion of its delivery network to serve additional communities throughout Southwest Florida. The Sarasota-based manufacturer, recognized as the 2019 Retail Business of the Year by the Sarasota Chamber of Commerce, has implemented new quality control procedures and extended service to North Port, Venice, Lakewood Ranch, and Naples.

The company's manufacturing facility in Sarasota has integrated additional quality control checkpoints into its production process for handcrafted mattresses. The updated procedures apply to all product lines, including models featuring the American Comfort2000 Pocketed Coil System, hypoallergenic latex foam, and Energex comfort materials. Each mattress undergoes inspection at multiple stages before delivery.

"We have implemented systematic updates to our manufacturing and quality control processes to maintain consistency across our product lines," said a spokesperson for Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory. "These operational improvements coincide with our expanded delivery network, allowing us to serve a broader geographic area while maintaining production standards."

The expanded delivery network now covers a 50-mile radius from the company's Sarasota facility, representing a 30 percent increase in service area compared to the previous year. This expansion addresses growing demand for locally manufactured mattresses in Southwest Florida communities. The company produces approximately 200 mattresses monthly across its standard and custom product lines.

As a mattress store in Bradenton and surrounding areas rely on for locally manufactured products, the company offers models ranging from the Cloud 11th Mattress with its multi-layer coil system to the extra-firm SRQ Mattress designed for specific support requirements. The facility also manufactures custom-sized mattresses for recreational vehicles and marine applications, representing 15 percent of total production volume.

The company's post-purchase firmness adjustment service allows customers to modify mattress comfort levels after delivery. This service utilizes proprietary adjustment techniques developed at the Sarasota facility. Approximately 20 percent of customers utilize this service within the first year of purchase, according to company data.

"The ability to adjust mattress firmness after purchase addresses a common challenge in the mattress industry," noted the spokesperson. "This service, combined with our local manufacturing capabilities, provides flexibility that traditional retail models cannot match."

The manufacturing facility operates with a team of 25 employees who produce mattresses using both traditional craftsmanship techniques and modern foam-cutting equipment. The company sources materials from domestic suppliers and maintains a 15-year warranty on all standard mattress models.

Recent industry data indicate that locally manufactured mattresses are a growing segment of the bedding market, with consumers increasingly seeking products made in their region. The Sleep Products Association reports that regional manufacturers have increased market share by 12 percent over the past three years.

Unlimited Comfort Mattress Factory operates from its combined showroom and manufacturing facility at 4051 Clark Road in Sarasota. The company was established in 2003 and has produced over 25,000 mattresses for residential and specialty markets throughout its operational history.
