April 29, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Opa Locka, Florida based company, Stainless Marine Inc. has announced a new website featuring their high performance boating products. The company has recently revealed that their new site is fully functional and features a new online shopping cart that features all of their high performance products for boats.

Letty Alejo with Stainless Marine says, "We're excited to have our website up and running and all of our performance boating products available for our customers."

Alejo says that the new shopping cart will make it much easier for customers to order the boating products that they need, and that the streamlined cart provides for a more efficient and faster ordering process.

"We've worked to ensure that all of the kinks are out, and that our customers are going to find ordering all of their products with ease. Whether you need high performance exhaust manifolds, or any other product that we sell, you'll find it fast and easy to order it and get it in your hands."

The company states that custom orders can also be specified by using their new online special quotes form.

Alejo says that this is just another way that they have designed a streamlined process for their customers.

Stainless Marine has been in the boating product business for more than 30 years, in the same building in South Florida. The company provides a number of performance items for boaters, shipped all across the nation. Alejo states that they have built a reputation for quality products and the best customer service in the industry. Their new website, the company says, will allow them to go a step further with their customer service, ensuring that customers have the specific products that they need in a timely manner.

The site, which is now live, offers a look at all of the company's products as well as their history in the industry. Those interested in learning more can visit Stainless Marine on their new website. The company states that they will also keep customers up to date on the latest industry news and new product roll outs on the site as well as Stainless Marine Performance news.
