Summit Scapes Construction Announces Estimator Project Manager Job Opening as Established Landscaping Company

June 16, 2026

MANLIUS, NY - June 16, 2026 -
Summit Scapes Construction, a landscaping company serving Central New York, announced a job opening for an Estimator and Project Manager position to support continued growth in the region. The company seeks an experienced professional to manage projects from initial scoping through completion.

The landscaping company has expanded its operations in hardscaping and landscaping services, creating the need for additional team support. The Estimator and Project Manager role involves scoping potential work, preparing accurate pricing, and overseeing project execution for residential and commercial outdoor spaces. Responsibilities include coordinating installations such as patios, retaining walls, and related site improvements while ensuring adherence to timelines and quality standards.

Candidates with three to four years of experience in landscape, hardscape, or construction fields are encouraged to apply. The position requires strong organizational skills to handle multiple projects in the Central New York market, where seasonal weather patterns influence scheduling and execution. The role contributes to the delivery of integrated outdoor solutions that address local terrain challenges, including slopes, drainage, and freeze-thaw conditions.

Summit Scapes Construction maintains a focus on durable installations that perform in regional climate conditions. The new team member will work alongside the existing crew on projects ranging from smaller walkway and patio builds to more comprehensive outdoor living spaces. Full insurance coverage applies to company operations, and the firm provides a one-year warranty on installed materials.

With 13 years of experience, the landscaping company serves homeowners in surrounding communities, including Fayetteville and DeWitt. The addition of this position supports the firm's ability to respond to demand for services such as hardscaping, landscape installation, and seasonal maintenance.

The Estimator and Project Manager will participate in site assessments to develop project proposals tailored to client needs and property specifications. This includes evaluating soil conditions, grading requirements, and integration with existing landscape features. Accurate estimating ensures projects stay on budget while meeting design and functional goals.

Project management duties encompass coordination with subcontractors when needed, material procurement, and on-site supervision to maintain safety and efficiency standards. The role plays a key part in maintaining the company's reputation for reliable outdoor construction work throughout Onondaga County and adjacent areas.

Applications for the position can be directed through company channels. Interested candidates should possess practical knowledge of construction processes relevant to landscaping and hardscaping. The opportunity aligns with the firm's ongoing commitment to building outdoor spaces suited to Central New York lifestyles.

"Adding an experienced Estimator and Project Manager allows us to sustain quality as we take on more projects in the area," said Jared Van Der Veer, Owner of Summit Scapes Construction. "This role is central to delivering complete outdoor solutions from concept to finished installation."

The landscaping company continues to refine its processes based on regional project experience. The new hire will contribute to this evolution by bringing additional capacity to the team during peak construction periods and supporting year-round operations that include snow removal services. This approach ensures that all projects meet high standards of quality and efficiency while adapting to the unique needs of different sites and clients.
