Durham, DH - Simply Pets Online has recently released a fairly new product to the Amazon marketplace. Many customers have given high praises for the high quality of the product. The product called slow feed cat bowl is an eco-friendly alternative to feeding bowls.

The slow feed cat bowl is designed by veterinarians who created a unique maze in a bowl pattern. They also decided to manufacture the product from all-natural and pet safe materials. According to Simply Pets Online, pet owners won?t have to worry about their pets inadvertently intaking toxins from the container they eat out of.

The company highlighted that the slow feed cat bowl was manufactured from an eco-friendly set of materials. The materials comprising the container included bamboo fiber and rice husk. These ensure that the cat bowl is non-toxic, fully degradable and 100% recyclable.

?We designed this product to be the safest on the market for pets. No longer will pet owners have to worry about the toxic and unhealthy plastic food containers. Additionally the materials comprising the cat bowl ensures the container is environmentally friendly. Our slow feed cat bowl also stands up to the highest regulations in the food and safety industry,? stated a representative from Simply Pets Online.

According to Simply Pets Online, the slow feed cat bowl is manufactured with the highest regards to food and safety requirements in the industry. The product is adequately approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA). In order to satisfy the European market, the company realized the need for a LFGB certification as well. This certification is given from German authorities that meet European standards and shows that the product passes food safety and sanitation laws and regulations.

The slow feed cat bowl is sold exclusively to online customers on the giant shopping portal Amazon. The feeder bowl is manufactured to be very durable and is available in bright modern colors of blue, purple and ivory.
