June 24, 2026 -
Vertical Entertainment, a New Hampshire-based event equipment and entertainment provider, announces expanded service coverage across major cities throughout New Hampshire and into northern Massachusetts, reinforcing its commitment to bringing comprehensive event solutions to communities across the region.

The company, which has been serving New England since 2006, now provides full-scale event logistics to Concord, Manchester, Portsmouth, Laconia, and surrounding areas in New Hampshire, as well as communities in northern Massachusetts. The expansion reflects growing demand for single-source event providers capable of managing diverse entertainment and equipment needs.

"After nearly two decades of serving New England communities, this expanded coverage area allows us to bring our comprehensive event services to more families, schools, and organizations," said Tim Ford, owner of Vertical Entertainment. "Having one company handle everything from rock walls to DJ services simplifies event planning and ensures consistent quality across all aspects of an event."

The company specializes in providing complete event solutions, including mechanical bulls, casino night equipment, foam cannons, photo booths, and the rock wall and bungee jump attractions that serve as the cornerstone of their business. Additional offerings include professional DJ services, catering coordination, inflatable games, water slides, tents, tables, chairs, and dunk tanks.

Vertical Entertainment serves a diverse range of organizations including campgrounds, colleges, corporate events, schools at all levels from kindergarten through high school, libraries, and summer camps. The company provides equipment and entertainment for various event types including Fourth of July celebrations, birthday parties, fundraisers, National Night Out events, Old Home Days, proms, town events, and weddings.

The expanded service area addresses a growing need for reliable event rental providers in the Lakes Region, Capital Region, White Mountains, and Eastern Foothills of New Hampshire. Communities in southern Maine and eastern Vermont also fall within the company's extended coverage zone.

"Event planners and organizations appreciate working with a single provider who understands the unique requirements of New England events," added Ford. "From small birthday parties to large-scale town celebrations, having access to diverse entertainment options and professional equipment makes event planning more efficient."

The company's casino night services have become particularly popular for fundraising events, providing professional-grade equipment and trained staff for schools and nonprofit organizations. The photo booth service offers multicolored backgrounds suitable for group pictures, while the mechanical bull and foam cannons add excitement to outdoor gatherings.

Vertical Entertainment maintains an extensive inventory of novelty items and traditional party equipment, allowing event organizers to source multiple entertainment options through a single vendor. This approach reduces coordination complexity and provides consistent service standards across all event elements.

Since 2006, Vertical Entertainment has established itself as a comprehensive event services provider throughout New England. The company offers equipment rentals and entertainment services for organizations ranging from elementary schools to corporate clients, specializing in creating memorable experiences through diverse entertainment options and professional event support.
