

HHI Windows and Doors Responds to Bluffton Home Renovation Surge with Increased Window Installation Capacity

July 01, 2026

BLUFFTON, SC - July 01, 2026 -
HHI Windows and Doors has expanded its window installation capacity in Bluffton, SC to meet growing homeowner demand. The added capacity lets the company take on more projects without stretching homeowners? timelines.

HHI Windows and Doors? installation team comprises certified installers with specialized training. Operating from 32 Malphrus Road, Unit 117, Bluffton, the company has served Lowcountry communities since 2010, when it began under the Holliday Home Improvements brand. The company reports increased window replacement requests in Bluffton over the past year, driven by aging housing stock and a growing emphasis on energy-efficient upgrades. HHI Windows and Doors ties the expansion to these trends, noting that many Bluffton homes, particularly those built during the early-2000s housing boom, now need updates to align with current building codes and coastal conditions.

"We?ve seen steady growth in window-replacement inquiries, especially after hurricane season," said Richard Barron, owner of HHI Windows and Doors. "With our increased capacity, we can complete more installations each month, including ENERGY STAR® options specified for Southern climate zones and other energy-efficient choices suited to the region?s humid subtropical climate."

In Bluffton, where most housing was built after 2000, more homeowners are addressing age-related issues like failing seals and frames that compromise insulation.

The company?s service area includes Bluffton, Hilton Head Island, and Beaufort, where similar renovation waves have emerged. This geographic focus helps the company source from regional distributors, which it reports reduces typical lead times after measurement.

HHI Windows and Doors notes that Bluffton homeowners often pursue window installations to enhance natural light and views of surrounding marshes and waterways. The company integrates precise measurements and custom sizing into each project to ensure compatibility with architectural styles ranging from Lowcountry cottages to modern estates.

HHI Windows and Doors? trained personnel use proven sealing methods to prevent air intrusion, which is a best practice emphasized by ENERGY STAR and the U.S. Department of Energy. This is a key concern in coastal installations. The company?s installation staff brings years of combined experience in exterior home upgrades, including work on ENERGY STAR®?related projects. Energy-efficient windows and doors can help reduce household energy use, supporting cost savings and comfort for homeowners.

Guidance from ENERGY STAR and the U.S. Department of Energy indicates that properly selected and installed windows, paired with effective air sealing, can reduce heating and cooling loads and help manage humidity-related issues common in coastal homes. HHI Windows and Doors incorporates these best practices into its protocols. The company reports that it uses corrosion-resistant hardware throughout and keeps pace with code updates in collaboration with approved vendors.

Local real estate activity further underscores the timing. The company?s Bluffton location facilitates rapid response, and it reports that initial consultations are typically scheduled within 48 hours of contact. It also reports increased call volume at (843) 689-2140, prompting team additions.

HHI Windows and Doors? increased capacity also benefits commercial clients in Bluffton, the company reports, as small businesses upgrade storefronts to align with current residential design trends. HHI Windows and Doors supplies and installs integrated solutions for entryways and patio access.

In addition to window replacement and installation, the company provides custom entry doors, patio doors, impact-resistant products, and hurricane-rated solutions for Lowcountry homeowners.
