LOGAN, Utah, April 27, 2016?As one of the top staffing agencies in Logan, UT, Express Employment Professionals seeks to continuously provide workforce services to the local community. The corporate office of Express has recently released new survey results highlighting the increasing difficulty that employers face when trying to recruit and fill jobs.

A survey of 340 businesses was conducted earlier this year. The respondents were asked, ?Currently, how easy is it for you to recruit and fill positions??

Three percent of the responses said ?very easy,? while 29 percent said ?somewhat easy.? Nearly half, 49 percent, said ?somewhat difficult,? while 16 percent said ?very difficult,? and another three percent said, ?I don?t know.?

More than half of all respondents said there was some sort of difficulty in recruiting and filling positions, ?very difficult? or ?somewhat difficult? (65 percent), in this survey than in any of the four hiring trends surveys conducted by Express in 2015. This increase in reported difficulty coincides with the decrease in the unemployment rate.

?Cache Valley employers are definitely feeling the effects of the current low unemployment situation,? Doug Anthony, franchise owner of the Logan Express office, says about the challenges faced dealing with employment in Logan, UT. ?Skilled workers are harder to find resulting in higher recruiting costs and pay increases across much of the valley.?

The survey of 340 businesses, which include both current and former clients of Express Employment Professionals, covers hiring trends for the first quarter of 2016.
