

Royal Pools by Adams Named 2026 SF Gate Best of the Bay Area Winner in Home Contractor Category

September 04, 2026

SAN JOSE, CA - September 04, 2026 -

Royal Pools by Adams has been named the 2026 SF Gate Best of the Bay Area Winner in the Home Contractor Category, an honor determined in part by community voting across the region. The recognition acknowledges the company's more than five decades of custom swimming pool design and construction throughout the San Francisco Bay Area.

The Best of the Bay Area program highlights businesses that residents rely on across a range of home and lifestyle categories. For the Home Contractor Category, the award reflects sustained community support and a long-standing reputation for craftsmanship. Royal Pools by Adams has been building outdoor living environments in the region since 1969.

Over the years, the company has designed and constructed custom swimming pools, spas, and outdoor spaces that turn residential backyards into personal retreats. Its work ranges from luxury pool designs in Silicon Valley to commercial aquatic facilities built for developers, municipalities, hotels, and recreation centers. The company also provides pool resurfacing services intended to support the safety, longevity, and performance of existing pools.

"This recognition carries real meaning because it comes from the communities served throughout the Bay Area," said Ray Langford, Marketing Director at Royal Pools by Adams. "For more than five decades, the focus has remained on designing and building custom pools and outdoor environments that families can enjoy for generations. The award belongs to the clients, partners, employees, and supporters who placed their trust in the company and shared their votes."

Royal Pools by Adams in San Jose, California serves homeowners and organizations seeking both residential and commercial pool construction. The residential design team develops layouts ranging from elegant and timeless to bold, resort-style features tailored to each property. On the commercial side, the company has served as a partner in developing aquatic facilities designed to meet the demands of a variety of clients across the region.

"The team approaches each project as an engineering and design challenge, whether the setting calls for a straightforward residential pool or a complex one-of-a-kind outdoor space," Langford said. "The commitment to careful craftsmanship and a thorough client experience has guided the work since 1969, and that approach continues."

Beyond construction and resurfacing, Royal Pools by Adams maintains a showroom where clients can review design options and offers financing to support project planning. The company is a member of several professional organizations, including the California Pool & Spa Association and the Pool & Hot Tub Alliance, reflecting its participation in industry standards and continuing education.

The recognition adds to the company's presence in California, where it has operated for more than 52 years. As the milestone is marked, the stated priority remains consistent: creating outdoor environments that families can enjoy over the long term.
