Savannah, Georgia - July 02, 2026 -
The Brown Firm, a personal injury law firm serving Georgia and South Carolina, highlights the distinctive dual expertise of managing partner Harry Brown, who brings both medical and legal credentials to accident injury cases. This combined background as both a Doctor of Chiropractic and experienced personal injury attorney provides clients with comprehensive understanding of their injuries and legal rights following accidents.

Harry Brown aka The Doctor Lawyer, practiced as a chiropractor for ten years before transitioning to law, giving him firsthand knowledge of the physical trauma accident victims experience. This medical foundation enables the firm to better evaluate injury claims, understand treatment protocols, and accurately assess the long-term impact of accidents on clients' lives.

"Having treated thousands of accident victims as a chiropractor, I understand the physical pain and emotional stress that follows a serious injury," said Harry Brown JR., DC, JD, Managing Partner of The Brown Firm. "This medical background allows me to speak the same language as treating physicians and helps ensure nothing gets overlooked when building a client's case. When insurance companies try to minimize injuries, I can effectively counter their arguments with medical knowledge backed by legal expertise."

The firm's approach addresses a common challenge in personal injury cases where attorneys may not fully grasp the medical complexities of their clients' injuries. By combining medical insight with legal strategy, the firm can more effectively negotiate with insurance companies and pursue maximum compensation for medical bills, lost wages, and long-term care needs.

Why Our Firm stands apart becomes clear through this integrated approach to representation. The combination of medical and legal knowledge helps attorneys at the firm identify all potential damages, including those that might not be immediately apparent following an accident. This includes understanding delayed onset injuries, chronic pain conditions, and the full scope of rehabilitation needs.

The firm handles a comprehensive range of personal injury cases including car accidents, motorcycle accidents, semi-truck accidents, pedestrian accidents, bicycle accidents, slip and fall incidents, dog bites, medical malpractice, nursing home abuse, work injuries, and wrongful death claims. Each case benefits from the medical-legal perspective that helps attorneys understand both the immediate and long-term implications of injuries.

Beyond medical expertise, the firm maintains a client-focused approach with 24/7 availability and regular case updates. The firm operates on a contingency fee basis, meaning clients pay nothing unless their case results in a settlement offer. Additionally, unlike many personal injury firms, they assist clients with property damage claims, ensuring comprehensive support throughout the legal process.

The Brown Firm maintains offices across Georgia and South Carolina, including locations in Savannah, Atlanta, Athens, Aiken, Okatie, and Fayetteville. The firm's team of experienced attorneys combines aggressive negotiation tactics with careful attention to each client's unique circumstances, leveraging their collective medical and legal knowledge to pursue favorable outcomes in personal injury cases.
