Buda Bounce House Party Rentals Grows Service Area Across Central Texas

July 01, 2026

Buda, Texas - July 01, 2026 -
Buda Bounce House Party Rentals, a veteran family-owned and operated inflatable party rental company headquartered in Buda, Texas, has announced an expansion of its service footprint across Central Texas. The company has added seven communities to its delivery area: Kyle, San Marcos, Driftwood, Wimberley, Lockhart, South Austin, and Manchaca, bringing its total coverage to eight cities spanning four counties and more than 1,200 square miles of the greater Austin region.

The expansion reflects sustained demand across Hays County's rapidly developing communities, where population growth and a rise in community event activity have created a corresponding need for professional party rental services. Hays County has consistently ranked among the fastest-growing counties in the United States, and communities like Kyle and San Marcos have seen particularly sharp increases in new households, school enrollment, and organized neighborhood events, precisely the Rodrigo Rodriguez, the founder and owner of Buda Bounce House Party Rentals, conditions that drive demand for full-service inflatable rentals. says the decision to grow the company's service area was driven as much by community need as by business strategy. "We started this company because we wanted to bring something that families in our area could genuinely count on," Rodriguez said. "We do this the right way because that's how we were trained - and being a veteran family means that standard is non-negotiable for us. Every event we show up to, we want the family to feel like they got more than they expected."

The company's core offerings include bounce houses in a variety of themes and sizes, combo bouncers with integrated slides, inflatable water slides built for the Texas summer heat, and obstacle course inflatables that anchor school field days, church events, and community festivals. Beyond inflatables, the company provides tent rentals, concession machines, yard games, and party accessories - giving event planners the option to source the bulk of their setup from a single, locally based vendor. Every rental includes $1 million or more in general liability insurance, with certificates of insurance available on request for schools, churches, and municipalities.

South Austin rounds out the company's expanded reach. The corridor running along Slaughter Lane and William Cannon Drive in southern Travis County has grown into a dense suburban community with strong ties to Hays County, and Buda Bounce House Party Rentals is now delivering throughout that area - filling a service gap that local families had long navigated by working with vendors based far outside the region.

For event planners working within city parks, school campuses, or HOA-managed facilities across the expanded coverage area, the company's booking and insurance documentation process is designed to be straightforward and responsive. Appointments, same-day quotes, and availability checks can be handled directly by phone, with the company operating seven days a week from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Rodriguez says the company's long-term goal is straightforward. "Every party we show up to, there are kids who are going to remember that day for the rest of their lives," he said. "Whether it's a backyard birthday in Buda or a school field day in San Marcos, we bring the same level of care to every single event."
