Las Vegas ? Vegas Exotic Shoes, billed as the ?Web?s Most Exotic Shoe Store,? has added a new line of footwear designed specifically for women who compete in the popular female fitness competitions. These high-heeled shoes are both practical for moving about on stage and for enhancing the appearance of the contestant without taking the focus off of the female form being scrutinized by the contest judges.

Vegas Exotic Shoes new class of fitness competition shoes fully align with the recent fitness show trend of combining beauty with an in-shape female body. The new lineup features 3? to 5? clear posing heels, rhinestone shoes and clear high heels that are designed to be fitness-show safe. All styles include non-slip soles and a padded platform at the ball of the foot making these stylish yet hard-working shoes the ideal choice for the serious woman of fitness.

Women?s body building competitions have evolved from strictly the display of pure bulk muscle to include more feminine physiques as evidenced by the creation of Fitness, Figure and Bikini categories where curves and muscle tone are considered more important than muscle mass. All three fitness classifications require extensive stage movements with turning and posing being done in a high-heeled shoe. The physical demands of the participant?s routine necessitate a pair of heels that are both comfortable to wear for long stretches and sturdy enough for the physical stress of a fitness show yet flaunt ultimate femininity. Vegas Exotic Shoes now offers the perfect solution.

All competitors in women?s fitness shows, physique and figure competitions and bodybuilding shows wear heeled shoes because they subtly enhance an entrant?s posture, accentuate the legs and make the woman appear taller. In the past, shoes commonly used were standard heels that were not designed for the rigors of a competitive exhibition which is why VegasExoticShoes.com has assembled a full line-up of fitness competition shoes specifically designed to meet the demands of the hard-working fitness performer.
