Cowboy Law Group Expands Criminal Defense Services to Waco and McLennan County

July 09, 2026

THE WOODLANDS, TX - July 09, 2026 -
Cowboy Law Group, a Texas-based law firm known for its client-first approach to criminal defense, has expanded its service area to include Waco and McLennan County residents facing criminal charges. The firm brings more than two decades of courtroom litigation experience to the region, offering comprehensive legal representation in criminal defense, federal crimes, and juvenile law cases.

The expansion addresses the growing need for experienced criminal defense representation in Central Texas, where residents facing charges ranging from DWI and drug crimes to assault and gun charges require skilled legal advocacy. Cowboy Law Group Criminal Defense Lawyers now provide Waco-area clients with access to attorneys who have extensive experience navigating both state and federal court systems.

"With more than two decades in the courtroom, I've learned that people facing criminal charges need more than legal advice ? they need someone who will fight for them like it's personal," said Chris Warren, Criminal Defense Lawyer at Cowboy Law Group. "We're proud to extend that same commitment to clients in Waco, guiding them through every step of the process with the grit and honesty they deserve."

Warren brings 22 years of courtroom litigation experience to the firm's expanded service area. Licensed by the State Bar of Texas since 2002, he is admitted to practice in both the Western and Southern Districts of Texas federal courts. This federal court admission proves particularly valuable for clients facing federal charges, which require specialized knowledge and experience.

The firm's approach to criminal defense emphasizes personal advocacy over corporate legal services, embodying what the firm describes as "Legal Grit. Cowboy Spirit." This philosophy guides their representation of clients through each stage of the Texas criminal justice process, from arrest through potential trial proceedings.

Cowboy Law Group Criminal Defense Lawyer services extend beyond adult criminal defense to include juvenile law representation. Parents whose children face criminal charges receive guidance through the unique challenges of the juvenile justice system, where the focus often shifts toward rehabilitation rather than punishment.

Understanding the Texas criminal justice process remains crucial for anyone facing charges. The process typically begins with arrest, followed by bond proceedings where release conditions are determined. If prosecutors pursue the case, an indictment follows, formally charging the defendant. The case then proceeds to trial unless resolved through plea negotiations. If convicted, sentencing determines the consequences, which may include fines, probation, or incarceration.

The firm maintains its primary office in The Woodlands while serving clients throughout Texas, including Houston, Conroe, and the Texas Hill Country. The Waco service area expansion represents part of the firm's commitment to making quality criminal defense representation accessible to more Texas residents.

Cowboy Law Group Criminal Defense Lawyers specializes in defending clients against various criminal charges, including DWI offenses, drug crimes, assault charges, gun-related offenses, and federal crimes. The firm also provides educational resources to help clients understand their rights and the legal process they face. Free case reviews are available for potential clients in the Waco area seeking legal representation.
