Oasis Center Highlights Five-Star Patient Outcomes Amid Growing Demand for Addiction Treatment Services

July 10, 2026

NEW YORK, NY - July 10, 2026 -
Oasis Center, a Manhattan-based addiction treatment facility, reports consistently high patient satisfaction ratings as the facility continues to address the growing need for comprehensive addiction treatment services in New York City. The center's five-star patient reviews reflect the effectiveness of its evidence-based treatment programs and compassionate approach to recovery.

The private treatment facility, which operates around the clock in Manhattan, has earned recognition from patients and families for its comprehensive range of services, from medical detoxification to dual diagnosis treatment. Recent patient feedback highlights the center's success in providing personalized care that addresses both substance use disorders and co-occurring mental health conditions.

"The consistent five-star feedback we receive from our patients validates our commitment to providing compassionate, evidence-based addiction treatment," said a spokesperson for Oasis Center. "Each positive review represents a life transformed and a family reunited, which motivates our clinical team to maintain the highest standards of care every single day."

The facility offers multiple levels of care designed to meet patients wherever they are in their recovery journey. Medical detoxification services provide 24/7 supervised withdrawal management for alcohol, opioids, benzodiazepines, and stimulants. Following detox, patients can transition to residential inpatient treatment, which provides round-the-clock clinical support in a structured environment.

For individuals who require flexibility while maintaining their work or family responsibilities, Oasis addiction center outpatient rehab in NYC programs offer various intensity levels. The Intensive Outpatient Program provides nine or more hours of therapy weekly with evening options, while standard outpatient services allow patients to continue their daily routines while receiving essential treatment support.

The center's Medication-Assisted Treatment program combines FDA-approved medications including Suboxone, Vivitrol, and methadone with counseling services. This integrated approach helps patients manage cravings and withdrawal symptoms while reducing relapse risk and improving treatment engagement.

Dual diagnosis treatment remains a cornerstone of the center's approach, recognizing that many individuals struggling with addiction also face mental health challenges. By addressing both conditions simultaneously, the clinical team helps patients achieve more sustainable recovery outcomes.

"Our integrated treatment model ensures that every aspect of a patient's health receives attention," noted another representative from Oasis Center. "The five-star reviews consistently mention our holistic approach and the genuine care our staff provides throughout the recovery process."

The facility accepts most major commercial insurance plans and provides free confidential assessments, including same-day evaluations for those seeking immediate help. Every individual who contacts the center receives respectful, dignified treatment from the initial phone call through their entire recovery journey.

Oasis Center maintains its position as a leading addiction treatment provider in Manhattan through its commitment to evidence-based practices and continuous improvement based on patient feedback. The center's clinical team remains available 24 hours daily, ensuring that help is always accessible for those ready to begin their recovery journey.
