

Williams and Sons Custom Construction Launches Full-Service New Construction for Custom Homes Across Southwest Missouri

August 12, 2026

CASSVILLE, MO - August 12, 2026 -

Williams and Sons Custom Construction and Design, a family-owned residential construction firm based in Cassville, Missouri, has announced the availability of its full-service new home construction offering for property owners throughout Southwest Missouri. The announcement gives homeowners who own or are acquiring vacant land access to a single builder that manages every phase of a project, from lot selection and permitting through to the final finishes.

With the new offering, Williams and Sons Custom Construction New Construction services now cover the entire building sequence under one roof. The firm handles lot evaluation, permitting, foundation work, framing, roofing, electrical, plumbing, and interior and exterior finishes, coordinating each stage so that clients work with one team rather than assembling multiple contractors on their own.

The firm brings more than 50 years of experience to residential projects across the region. A defining element of its approach is that the owners remain present on the job site daily, overseeing crews and monitoring progress rather than managing from a distance. The company also maintains an in-house design team that develops and updates blueprints, allowing plans to be adjusted as a project takes shape.

"Building a home from the ground up involves dozens of moving parts, and property owners often feel overwhelmed trying to coordinate them all," said Trevor, a representative of Williams and Sons Custom Construction and Design. "By managing every phase ourselves and staying on site each day, the process becomes far more straightforward for the people who trust us with their land."

The expanded service is aimed at homeowners who own vacant parcels or are in the process of acquiring land and want to build rather than purchase an existing property. Williams and Sons Custom Construction guides clients from the earliest planning conversations, including lot selection considerations, through the permitting process and into construction, with regular updates provided at each milestone.

The firm reports that clean job sites, adherence to timelines, and consistent communication are central to how it operates. Owners on site daily allow decisions to be made quickly and questions to be answered directly, reducing the delays that can arise when responsibilities are spread across several separate trades.

"Our in-house design team means clients are not handed off between separate companies for planning and building," Trevor added. "Everything stays connected, so what a family imagines during design is what gets constructed on their lot."

Williams and Sons Custom Construction and Design offers free consultations for new construction projects, giving prospective clients an opportunity to review options and receive estimates before committing to a build. The firm serves communities including Monett, Golden, Eagle Rock, Shell Knob, and Cassville.

Williams and Sons Custom Construction and Design is a family-owned, locally operated custom home builder based in Southwest Missouri.
