

In Stock Today Cabinets Opens a New Cabinet Era With Loyalty Rewards Program for Trade Professionals

July 14, 2026

ALEXANDRIA, VA - July 14, 2026 -

In Stock Today Cabinets LLC has launched a loyalty rewards program designed for contractors, builders, and dealers in the wholesale cabinet industry. The Alexandria-based wholesale cabinet distributor introduced the free membership program to convert every dollar spent into points toward automatic discounts. Members earn two points for each dollar spent on cabinet purchases, with 10,000 points automatically converting to a $100 discount at checkout. The program applies to all cabinet lines, including the company's Fabuwood and FIBO collections.

This wholesale cabinets loyalty program arrives as federal tariffs on imported kitchen cabinets remain at 25 percent through 2026, offering buyers of domestically manufactured lines like Fabuwood a structured volume discount. The launch aligns with current demand for quality-certified cabinetry meeting both KCMA A161.1 performance standards and EPA TSCA Title VI formaldehyde emission requirements.

"The launch of this loyalty program establishes a new cabinet era framework for how we serve the professional trade community," said Emin Halac, CEO of In Stock Today Cabinets. "Contractors and builders who consistently source quality-certified cabinetry will now receive structured rewards based on their purchase volume."

The program operates across In Stock Today Cabinets showroom locations in Alexandria and Fairfax, Virginia; Columbia, Maryland; Bear, Delaware; and Houston, Texas. Points tracking occurs through phone number or email registration, with rewards applying automatically once accounts reach the 10,000-point threshold. Unused points expire 12 months from the date of issue, and program terms are subject to change based on periodic reviews. The company will evaluate the program's success by monitoring trade professional enrollment and point redemption metrics over the next two fiscal quarters.

In Stock Today Cabinets maintains an extensive inventory of all-plywood kitchen and bathroom cabinets. The selection includes styles such as Shaker White, Shaker Grey, Shaker Blue, and the Allure, Quest, and Value Premium lines. Fabuwood products feature solid-wood door and drawer-front frames with mortise-and-tenon joinery, dovetail drawer construction, and Blum soft-close hardware.

The wholesale cabinets new era focus also encompasses practical service offerings for account holders. The company provides free in-store design consultations, same-day pickup for in-stock items, and delivery within five to seven business days for Fabuwood lines. Trade professionals have access to contractor pricing and downloadable product catalogs for project planning.

As an authorized Fabuwood distributor since 2015, In Stock Today Cabinets supplies the mid-Atlantic and Texas markets. The company provides a lifetime limited warranty on all Fabuwood products to cover manufacturing defects. The loyalty program integrates with this standard, offering an organized discount system for professionals sourcing certified-grade materials for their projects.
