Trujillo Vargas Gonzalez & Hevia, LLP is excited to announce the long awaited and complete redesign of the law firm's website www.trujillovargas.com. It now provides the end user with a friendly, modern and professional online experience.

Trujillo Vargas Gonzalez & Hevia, LLP practices in the areas of commercial litigation, insurance disputes, personal injury, immigration, criminal defense, employment law, mass tort litigation and more. Now the firm can better serve clients with a website that showcases its most important asset - the experience of the attorneys in its various practice areas.

"We are excited about the website redesign and the organized information it provides to our site visitors," explained partner Andrew Vargas. "The firm will be adding Spanish language content to the website in the coming month to cater to the bilingual population that we serve in Florida."

One of the most commonly asked questions the firm receives is "what differentiates your law firm from other law firms?" Said Mr. Vargas, "Our website now addresses this question by explaining our practice areas in detail and listing our team of widely experienced attorneys."

"One of the most important factors that differentiates our legal team from other firms is the client satisfaction our team prides itself in delivering," said partner Carlos Trujillo. "The firm works overtime to ensure our clients get the best representation possible and our teamwork is exemplary."

Trujillo Vargas Gonzalez & Hevia, LLLP's new website design has user-friendly navigation and will be updated on a regular basis with news, information related to practice areas, recent case resolutions and other information potential clients need to know in order to make an informed decision.
