May 19, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Ariana Gee - Bespoke Lettings is a new letting agency in the City of Brighton and Hove, United Kingdom. As a letting agent in Brighton, the company aims to ensure that people will be able to find homes to suit their needs, at prices that they can afford. Brighton is a hugely popular city in the United Kingdom, and many people dream of living there, with its views of the sea and pier. The agency prides itself in offering a bespoke service that fits the needs of their individual customers.

Ariana Gee herself says: "We source properties for a variety of individuals. This includes buy to let investors, residential customers, people who want to relocate, and more. Additionally, we offer property management services for our buy to let clients. I have an extensive list of contacts and networks to dip into, and always advertise on high profile websites."

While having opened only recently, the letting agency is already drawing a lot of attention. They have also launched a significant social media campaign, including a Twitter page that is available through <https://twitter.com/arianagee2016>. People are encouraged to follow that social media page in order to be kept up to date with any new properties that are available, or to ask questions about the services that they offer.

Representing both tenants and landlords, the agency has received numerous positive testimonials. "Thank you for letting my property," says Jane T., a Brighton landlord, on the agency's website. "Everything went smoothly and you have selected excellent tenants. It is great to have someone else deal with interviewing, reference take up and money decisions. I'm glad to feel you are at my back so to speak."

Meanwhile, a certain tenant says: "You were fabulous from start to finish - we really appreciated how you were always so professional and so approachable at all times. We have already recommended OTM to many colleagues. We couldn't be happier with our house."

The letting agent posts all available properties on Rightmove, the country's most popular home website. Anyone looking for a property in Brighton, be that to rent for themselves or as a landlord, are encouraged to contact Ariana Gee - Bespoke Lettings as soon as possible.
