

Advanced Injury Care Clinic Expands Services with New Downtown Nashville Location

July 20, 2026

July 20, 2026 -

Advanced Injury Care Clinic has opened a new downtown Nashville location to provide expanded access to specialized injury treatment services for auto accident victims and personal injury patients throughout the metropolitan area. The new facility at 2214 Elliston Place represents a strategic expansion aimed at serving the growing need for immediate, specialized care in the city's central business district.

The expansion enables Advanced Injury Care Clinic in Downtown Nashville to offer comprehensive treatment options specifically designed for patients recovering from vehicular collisions and workplace incidents. The clinic's team of specialists focuses on addressing the unique challenges faced by injury victims, including the complex soft tissue damage that often goes undetected in standard medical imaging.

"Opening this downtown location allows us to provide same day injury treatment to patients who need immediate attention following an accident," said Dr. Darneshia Roberts DC, lead chiropractor at Advanced Injury Care Clinic. "Many people don't realize that delays in seeking treatment can significantly impact both their physical recovery and their ability to document injuries for insurance purposes. Having a centrally located facility means we can see patients quickly when time is critical."

The new downtown facility offers the same comprehensive services that have established Advanced Injury Care Clinic as a leading provider of post-accident care in Tennessee. With over ten years of experience treating car accident injury victims, the clinic has developed specialized protocols for addressing whiplash, neck pain, back pain, and other trauma-related conditions that commonly result from vehicular collisions.

A key differentiator in the clinic's approach involves hands-on evaluation techniques that assess posture, spinal alignment, and soft tissue function beyond what traditional imaging can reveal. This comprehensive assessment methodology allows the clinical team to develop individualized treatment plans tailored to each patient's specific injury pattern and recovery goals.

"We understand that patients seeking chiropractic care after an auto accident face unique challenges beyond just physical pain," explained Dr. Roberts. "Our integrated approach combines chiropractic techniques with medical documentation to support both the healing process and any necessary insurance claims. We help patients navigate the entire recovery journey, from initial evaluation through complete rehabilitation."

The downtown location operates with extended hours to accommodate working professionals and offers flexible scheduling options. The facility features modern treatment rooms equipped with advanced diagnostic and therapeutic equipment designed specifically for trauma-related injury care.

Beyond auto accident injuries, the clinic also specializes in treating work-related injuries, slip and fall incidents, and chronic pain conditions resulting from trauma. The clinical team provides detailed documentation and reporting services to support workers' compensation claims and employer requirements.

Advanced Injury Care Clinic operates multiple locations throughout Nashville and has built a reputation for combining evidence-based chiropractic techniques with comprehensive patient support services. The clinic's expansion into downtown Nashville reflects its commitment to making specialized injury care more accessible to patients throughout the metropolitan area. The organization maintains a multidisciplinary approach to treatment, incorporating both chiropractic and medical professionals to ensure optimal patient outcomes.
