July 22, 2026

Damascus, OR - July 22, 2026 -

Smart Services PDX, a Damascus-based landscaping and outdoor construction company, reports increased requests for professional fencing installations as Oregon property owners prioritize privacy, security, and property enhancement. The company has expanded its fencing division to meet the rising demand for both residential and commercial fencing projects throughout the Portland Metro area.

The surge in fencing inquiries reflects broader trends in property management and home improvement across Oregon, where homeowners and businesses seek to define property boundaries, enhance security measures, and create private outdoor spaces. Smart Services PDX in Oregon has positioned itself to address these needs through comprehensive fencing solutions that combine functionality with aesthetic appeal.

"Property owners are recognizing that professional fencing installation represents a significant investment in both security and property value," said Alberto, speaking for Smart Services PDX. "We're seeing requests for everything from traditional wood privacy fences to modern composite materials that offer durability with minimal maintenance requirements. Each project reflects the unique needs of Oregon property owners who want solutions that withstand our climate while enhancing their outdoor spaces."

The company's approach to fencing projects integrates with its broader landscape construction services, allowing clients to coordinate fencing installations with other outdoor improvements such as decking, retaining walls, and irrigation systems. This comprehensive service model enables property owners to develop cohesive outdoor environments that address multiple needs simultaneously.

Smart Services PDX employs experienced crews familiar with local building codes and permit requirements, ensuring that fencing installations comply with municipal regulations while meeting client specifications. The company's two-decade presence in the Oregon market has provided extensive knowledge of soil conditions, weather patterns, and material performance specific to the Pacific Northwest region.

The fencing division offers various materials and styles, including cedar, vinyl, chain link, and composite options. Each material selection considers factors such as maintenance requirements, longevity, cost considerations, and compatibility with existing landscape features. The company also provides consultation services to help property owners select appropriate fencing solutions based on their specific goals, whether focusing on privacy, security, decorative appeal, or property delineation.

Beyond standard fencing installations, Smart Services PDX addresses specialized needs such as wildlife exclusion, pool safety compliance, and commercial security requirements. The company's sawmilling capabilities allow for custom lumber preparation when projects require specific dimensions or wood treatments not readily available through standard suppliers.

Smart Services PDX has operated in the Portland Metro area for over 20 years, offering comprehensive outdoor services including landscape design, construction, and maintenance. The company specializes in creating functional outdoor spaces through services ranging from irrigation installation to hardscape construction. Their commitment to sustainable practices includes recommending native plant installations and implementing eco-friendly irrigation systems that reduce water consumption while maintaining landscape health.
