May 10, 2016

May 10, 2016 -

Centralia, Wash., May 10, 2016?Just in time for Mother's Day, Express Employment Professionals, among the most respected employment agencies in Centralia, WA, delivered fresh results from a special-edition survey revealing the mentality of working mothers.

Participants were asked simply, ?Would you work if you didn?t have to?? Sixty-two percent of working moms said ?yes,? compared to 69 percent of working fathers who said the same.

Additionally, Express released results from a survey of businesses on the treatment of parents in the workplace. Respondents were asked, ?Do you provide maternity leave for the birth or adoption of a child?? Three-quarters (75 percent) of the businesses said, ?Yes.?

When it comes to paternity leave, however, the story is a little different. Just under half of the surveyed businesses (49 percent) provide paternity leave.

Many businesses do offer other benefits as well, according to the survey. Two-thirds (67 percent) said they permit working moms and dads to take advantage of flexible hours, while 26 percent said they provide other forms of benefits, and seven percent reported allowing working parents to telecommute.

?Working parents are some of the hardest working people out there,? said Matthew Rice-Swena, branch manager of the Centralia Express office. ?We offer as much flexibility for working mothers and fathers as we can.?

?On behalf of the entire Express team, I wish a Happy Mother?s Day to all the moms out there!? added Rice-Swena.

The survey of 1,059 working moms and dads was conducted in May 2016.

The survey of 390 businesses, which are current and former clients of Express Employment Professionals, was conducted in April 2016.
