May 17, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Toronto, Ontario bridal shop Bella's Brides has announced the arrival of a new bridal collection from Ella Rosa. The company states that the latest collection contains a variety of private label gowns that brides are sure to find stunning for this year's weddings.

Nadi Baruch of Bella's Brides says, "We are so excited to have the new Ella Rosa Bridal Collection. It is filled with gorgeous gowns that our soon to be brides will surely adore."

Bella's Brides offers a selection of gowns and dresses for brides, as well as bridesmaids, flower girls, and mother of the bride. They provide a number of accessories as well from veils to belts.

"We want your bridal experience to be something that you'll remember forever, and that begins with shopping for your gown," says Baruch. "This is why we are so pleased to offer the Ella Rosa collection. We just know that there is a unique gown with every bride's name."

Bella's Brides has been providing wedding dresses Toronto for a number of years. The boutique style shop works with brides to ensure that they get the perfect gown, right down to the fine details. Baruch states that in addition to their selection of gowns, they also provide full guidance to brides for choosing elements that will make their wedding day a day that they will fondly remember forever.

Baruch states that every little girl dreams of walking down the aisle in a gorgeous gown, and that the new Ella Rosa collection is sure to have something to suit every personal preference. The boutique serves brides from various areas around Toronto, and offers a majority of their collection online as well, through their online store.

Those interested in seeing the gowns available in the new collection can visit the store on their website or in person in Toronto. The official Ella Rosa website also has a look at the gowns in this newest collection, as well as specifics regarding sizes available.

Baruch states that she hopes brides will come by to view the collection and see the new styles that are now available in their store.
