

Jungle Works LLC Expands Cannabis Product Portfolio with Burning Daily Operations

August 05, 2026

HACIENDA HEIGHTS, CA - August 05, 2026 -

Jungle Works LLC has expanded its cannabis product operations through its Burning Daily division, offering an extensive selection of hemp-derived cannabinoid products to meet growing consumer demand for alternative wellness options.

The company now provides access to a comprehensive range of cannabinoid products including Delta 8, Delta 9, Delta 10, CBD, THC-A, and HHC variants. The expansion positions the company to serve diverse consumer preferences across multiple product categories, from traditional flower products to modern vaping solutions and edibles.

"The cannabis market continues to evolve rapidly, and consumers are seeking reliable sources for quality hemp-derived products," said Manny Soto, Director of Operations at Jungle Works LLC. "Through our expanded operations, we're able to offer products from over 30 trusted brands while maintaining strict quality standards across our entire inventory."

Burning Daily operates as a specialized division focused on hemp-derived cannabinoid products, featuring items from established brands including After Hours, Astro Eight, Big High, Blinkers, Boutiq, Cabin Crew, Cali Extrax, Canabzy, and Canna River. The product catalog spans eleven distinct categories designed to address varying consumer needs and consumption preferences.

The company's flower and pre-roll selection includes THC-A flower, along with pre-rolled options featuring THC-A, THC-P, Delta 8, and HHC variants. For those preferring vaporization methods, the company stocks both cartridges and disposable devices. The edibles category encompasses Delta 9, Delta 10, HHC, Live Resin, THCA, and THCP formulations.

Additionally, the company has introduced pet-specific formulations made with pet-safe ingredients, recognizing the growing interest in cannabinoid products for animal wellness. The accessories category provides supporting products such as vape pens and rolling papers, while a dedicated deals section offers regularly updated discounts on select items.

The expansion comes as the hemp-derived cannabinoid market experiences significant growth nationwide. Industry reports indicate increasing consumer acceptance of alternative cannabinoids beyond traditional CBD, with particular interest in Delta 8 and THC-A products. The company's multi-brand approach allows consumers to access various formulations and potencies through a single source.

Shipping services extend throughout the United States, with free shipping available on orders exceeding fifty dollars. The company maintains regular inventory updates through its new arrivals category, ensuring access to the latest product innovations in the hemp-derived cannabinoid space.

Jungle Works LLC operates in the cannabis products sector, specializing in hemp-derived cannabinoid distribution. The company focuses on providing access to federally compliant hemp products through its specialized divisions, maintaining relationships with multiple manufacturers and brands to offer comprehensive product selection. Through strategic category organization and regular inventory expansion, the company serves both individual consumers and bulk purchasers seeking hemp-derived cannabinoid products.
