

Clean Machine Pressure Washing Launches Eco-Friendly Exterior Cleaning Services in Phoenix

August 07, 2026

PHOENIX, AZ - August 07, 2026 -

Clean Machine Pressure Washing, a locally owned and operated business, has officially launched its residential and commercial exterior cleaning operation serving the Phoenix, Arizona area. The company enters the market with a focus on environmentally conscious cleaning methods designed to restore curb appeal, improve safety, and protect property investments across the region.

The launch introduces a range of exterior cleaning services to Phoenix homeowners and businesses, including soft washing, window cleaning, and building washing. The company also provides gutter cleaning, roof cleaning, concrete restoration, solar panel cleaning, and specialty stain removal. Each service relies on professional-grade equipment and cleaning solutions selected to match the surface being treated.

Soft washing forms a central part of the company's approach. The method uses low pressure and specialized antimicrobial solutions to remove mildew, bacteria, algae, and other organic stains from roofs and building exteriors without the destructive force of high-pressure spraying. During the process, the company takes measures to protect surrounding landscaping.

For commercial clients, Clean Machine Pressure Washing applies industrial-grade surface cleaners to restore driveways, patios, and walkways. The company matches solution blends to specific stain types, ranging from oil and rust to algae and general buildup, in order to lift years of accumulation from hard surfaces.

Window and solar panel cleaning round out the service menu. The company delivers streak-free window cleaning for residential and commercial properties and cleans solar panels to help maintain their performance in the Phoenix climate.

Joshua Salajan, founder of Clean Machine Pressure Washing, said the company was built to address a specific need in the local market. "Phoenix properties face constant exposure to dust, heat, and hard-water conditions that wear down exterior surfaces over time," Salajan said. "The goal in launching this company was to give homeowners and businesses a dependable option that uses methods matched to those conditions rather than a one-size-fits-all approach."

Salajan added that the company's environmental focus shaped its methods from the start. "Eco-friendly techniques and careful protection of landscaping are part of how the work gets done, not an afterthought," he said. "Cleaning a property should not come at the expense of the surroundings, and that principle guides every job."

The company emphasizes that regular exterior maintenance can extend the lifespan of building materials and reduce the risk of long-term damage caused by mold, grime, and organic growth. In a desert climate, accumulated dust and mineral deposits can dull surfaces and, in the case of solar panels, affect energy output.

Clean Machine Pressure Washing serves the Phoenix community with a stated commitment to integrity, professionalism, and dedication to excellence. As a locally owned operation, the company positions its familiarity with regional conditions as central to the services it provides.

Clean Machine Pressure Washing is a residential and commercial exterior cleaning provider based in Phoenix, Arizona. The company specializes in pressure washing, soft washing, window cleaning, gutter cleaning, roof cleaning, concrete restoration, solar panel cleaning, and specialty stain removal, using professional-grade equipment and environmentally conscious cleaning methods to serve property owners throughout the Phoenix area.

###

For more information about Clean Machine Pressure Washing, contact the company here: Clean Machine Pressure Washing Joshua Salajan 916-806-3151 cleanmachinepwaz@gmail.com 3307 W Zuni Brave Trl

Clean Machine Pressure Washing

Clean Machine Pressure Washing provides residential and commercial pressure washing, soft washing, roof, gutter, window, concrete, solar panel, and specialty stain cleaning services throughout the Phoenix, Arizona area.

Website: <https://cmpressurewashingaz.com/>

Email: cleanmachinepwaz@gmail.com

Phone: 916-806-3151

